TRUE RELEVANCE AND UNIQUE ENGAGEMENT FOR BUSINESS

T.R.U.E. BRANDING

(Truthful, Relevant, Unique, and Engaging)

The outline that follows will guide you and your company through a T.R.U.E. Branding discovery process, revealing TRUE Brand initiatives that facilitate better, more efficient, and more focused brand marketing communications strategies. This process will be facilitated by Spoke Communications, LLC President and The Brand Chef, Andrew B. Clark.

For over 20 years, Andrew has been working with companies and associations from agriculture to community municipalities, service providers and retail industries to differentiate, define, defend, and deliver TRUE Brand marketing communications. Creating smarter connections to his clients' targeted markets.

By no means, once this process is taken, will your branding journey be over. A TRUE Brand is always evolving, ever-growing and revealing new aspects of itself as business and opportunities arise within the company and the industries you navigate. It's advised that this process is taken and reviewed by the management team at least every six (6) months and by the company as a whole, annually.

The TRUE Brand is powerful and driving force for communication. Done with honesty, focus, and diligence, this discovery process will teach you more about yourself and your company than you'd ever imagine a business and marketing process could.

Good luck! And happy branding!
